"The New South America."

The address of H. M. John Barrett, Director of the International Bureau of American Republics, in the Second Presbyterian Church last night was interesting and instructive throughout, and was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation of men who were present. The audience was representative, and embraced gentlemen of all creeds and occupations.

The address was delivered under the auspices of the Presbyterian Brotherhood of this city.

Mr. F. L. Slaymaker presided, and after the assembly had been called to order the hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King," was sung with spirit, most of those present joining with the quartette composing the choir—Messrs. George B. Kennedy, George H. Evans, Charles Davis and A. C. Slaymaker in rendering the hymn.

An organ recital by Mr. S. Frederick Smith, of Washington College, followed. This was an enjoyable feature, the organist showing himself to be an expert. After Mr. Wilbur Maddux had rendered a solo which was much enjoyed, Mr. Slaymaker made a few remarks concerning the purposes of the brotherhood, and later introduced Mr. Barrett.

The speaker began his address on South America by making some humorous references, but soon launched forth into his subject and as he progressed his exuberance was marked. There is probably no man in the United States more fitted to speak on South America than is Mr. Barrett. He has been in the diplomatic service for about fourteen years, having first been appointed Minister to Spain in 1894. He was later war correspondent in the Philippines, special commissioner in Japan and China, delegate of the United States to the Pan-American conference in Mexico, U. S. Minister to Argentina, Minister to Panama and minister to Colombia, 1905-06.

Mr. Barrett's portrayal of the growing commercial importance and possibilities of the different South American countries was a revelation to most of his audience. The speaker described conditions in cities on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and pictured the remarkable growth of all the countries south of the United States from the isthmus to Patagonia.

Mr. Barrett concluded his address by impressing upon his audience the fact that the United States should resort to all proper means for fostering the best feeling between the mother republic and the smaller nations of the western hemisphere. The latter, he said, are now studying the politics of Europe and America and contrasting the same. As their countries grow in importance they will adopt European or American ideas. It was therefore important for the United States to be the big brother among American nations to gain their confidence. Mr. Barrett took his seat amidst applause.

After the rendering of a hymn the meeting was closed. Mr. Barrett held an ovation in the church before he left for Washington, and he gave every indication of being well-pleased with his visit to Alexandria.

Mrs. Barrett's Lecture.

In the progressive movement of the world great expositions are looked upon as valuable educational factors. Already this is apparent in regard to the approaching Jamestown Exposition, as is shown by the increased interest which is being taken in the shifting of the history of our country and the new and potent facts which have been brought to light in regard to the settlement of the country by this aroused interest. But there is another side to the picture which in the glamor which surrounds expositions is often lost sight of, and that is the opportunity which is presented for the work of the powers of evil in entrapping the unwary and spreading gilded nets for the feet of the heedless. Both of the phases are forcibly brought out by Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett in the lecture which will be delivered by her at the Southern Methodist Church on Thursday night at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Her subject, "The Pleasures and Dangers of Expositions, or Lights and Shadows," is full of interesting facts and strong pictures. Mrs. Barrett has a broad experience in expositions and has been appointed by the board of governors of the exposition as chairman of the headquarters for organizations of women during the exposition period. Mrs. Barrett will also give some practical suggestions to those who expect to visit the exposition.

Police Court.

[Justice H. H. Olson presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: Carter Bryant, arrested by Officer Sherwood charged with being drunk and for carrying concealed weapons, was fined $50. Charles Lloyd, arrested by Officer Jones charged with stealing a pair of boots from Ernest Sullivan, was dismissed. A young man, arrested by Officer Knight charged with entering cars of the Washington Southern Railway Company was held for the county authorities.

Fined Fifty Dollars.

A white man who gave his name as Brydes, and Danville as his residence, went to the station house late last night, and under the influence of liquor, was placed under arrest by Officer Sherwood. When searched a pistol was found in one of his pockets. Brydes was brought before Justice Catton this morning and fined $50. He could not pay the assessment and was sent to jail.

Moving Pictures.

The exhibition of Pearce & Scher's high art moving pictures at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall last night for the benefit of the Reliance Fire Company was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. The exhibition will be repeated tonight when new pictures will be presented.

The City Council meets tonight.

The State Examiners.

The State Board of School Examiners which met in this city yesterday resumed their session at the Hotel Fleischman this morning and are busy on the work outlined in yesterday's Gazette. Mr. C. J. Mappis, of Charlottesville, and Mr. J. S. Thomas, of Lynchburg, who were not present at the opening session arrived in the evening and took their seats in the board.

Today the board has been engaged in preparing a uniform course of studies for all ten of the Summer Normal Schools to be held this year, one of which will be at Fredericksburg for the benefit of the teachers of this section of the State and will be conducted by Mr. E. H. Russell, examiner for the Farmville district. The Central Summer School will be held at the University of Virginia, commencing on June 19th and continuing for six weeks under the auspices of the university. The courses provided at this school are for teachers in high schools and colleges, for first grade teachers wishing to advance to high school work, for college students desiring to use the long vacation to profit, and for principals and superintendents of schools. This evening the members of the board paid a visit to Washington School, Col. T. H. Ficklin, principal, and examined that school. Tomorrow Superintendent Clements, of the county schools, will come here and take the members of the board on a trip of examination through the county.

The Judgeship.

The telegram from Richmond published in yesterday's Gazette announcing that Gov. Swanson had designated Judge Barley, of the Corporation Court of this city, to sit as judge of this circuit till the legislature meets in January next and elects a successor to Judge Nicol, although anticipated, was not received with much favor by many of the seven hundred citizens who had requested the appointment of Mr. J. M. Johnson to the position. These claim that it is imposing too much work on Judge Barley and that the circuit should have a judge of its own at once. A meeting of the bar of this city had been called for tomorrow to endorse a man for the position before the telegram in question had been received here, but it is said today that the meeting will be held anyway. The designation of Judge Barley to hold the circuit court in Alexandria city and county and in Fairfax and Prince William counties will keep him busy during the remainder of the year, but the Judge is fully able for the task and doubtless will keep things moving along smoothly and satisfactorily. One of the duties of the Judge between the months of July and October will be to appoint commissioners of revenue in the three counties of this circuit. In the cities the commissioners are elected.

Johnson's Trial.

The trial of William Johnson, colored, for the killing of Charles T. Smith on the 20th of last October, will probably commence in the Corporation Court during the week beginning March 25. Johnson is still in jail in Fredericksburg and it is said, will not be brought here till the day of the trial. Commonwealth's Attorney Brent is still confined to his home with asthma and has so far been unable to go a day for the trial to begin, and as Judge Barley will preside in the Circuit Court of Fairfax next week, the trial cannot be gone into before the date mentioned above. Should Johnson fail to procure counsel Judge Barley will appoint Messrs. Douglas Stuart and Howard Smith to defend the prisoner.

Candidates at Stafford.

At Stafford Court House yesterday three candidates for the democratic nomination for Congress in the Eighth district were present. They were C. O. Carlin, Alexandria; Judge C. E. Nicol, Prince William, and R. L. Gordon, Louisa. All three made speeches, and were introduced by county chairman Judge B. H. L. Chichester. The crowd in attendance gave close attention. The contest in Stafford seems to be close between Carlin and Gordon, with Nicol third and Ryan fourth. Mr. Gordon, Judge Nicol and Mr. Carlin will address the voters of Culpeper county at Culpeper, next Monday.

Charged With Robbing Cars.

Five men (including two Alexandrians) are in custody in Alexandria county charged with entering cars in the Potomac railroad yards and taking articles therefrom. It is said that 25 quart bottles of whiskey were stolen. The accused were brought before Justice Birrell and the case was in progress when this report closed.

These barrels will be filled with salted herring and will be shipped to this and other markets during the summer. After unloading her cargo the Bramble will go to Newport News to load a full cargo of salt in bulk for the use of the Great Wicomico fishing industry.

It is rumored at the government printing office that there will soon be a general discharge of employees as a result of the institution of the new time system, lack of work and other causes. The statement is made that the proposed discharge will be confined, so far as possible, to those who are classed as incompetents. In that connection there are said to be at least 100 printers, bookbinders and others who are classed as such.

Alexander L. Wilson, colored, of this city died suddenly at Bedouille this morning. The remains will be brought to this city for interment. The deceased was about 30 years old, and had been in the employ of Messrs. Charles King & Sons.
